

POLARIMETER DEVICE MAKE – LABTEK, ORIGIN – INDIA

The laboratory polarimeter which we manufacture is a reliable instrument for accurate measurement of optical rotations, for study of polarisation effects and for quick and easy discrimination between right-handed sugars such as dextrose and left handed sugar such as laevulose. The instruments find use in industries as well as in colleges and universities. We are rated among the top analytical polarimeter manufacturers as well as suppliers.